

Create a poster advertising your chocolate bar. How can you tempt people to buy it?

Recreate a famous piece of artwork but include a reference to chocolate. Perhaps the Mona Lisa will be eating a Crunchie bar or Starry Night will have Smarties in the sky!

Create a TV advert for your chocolate bar – you could video it or use an animation program.

Design and make the wrapper for your chocolate bar.

Create a jingle for your chocolate bar advert.

You are going to be Willy Wonker and design a brand new chocolate bar! It can be as crazy and fabulous as you like! Think carefully about the ingredients – what flavours do you think would go well together? What toppings will you have?

Try making your chocolate bar (and eating it!).

Carry out a favourite chocolate bar survey. You could ask friends and family. Then present your data in a bar graph.

Write a recipe for your chocolate bar with instructions on how to make it.

Listen to Michael Rosen read Chocolate Cake on YouTube.

Find out where chocolate comes from.

Write an extra chapter for Charlie and the Chocolate Factory. What will happen when one of the children eats your chocolate bar?

Carry out a science experiment with chocolate.
<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=MumIQeELvak>
You could try different ways of melting it and then finding out how quickly it will turn back to solid.

