

JOTTERS

My name is Alice and I am the founder of Jotters, a new creative writing initiative for children. I am running after-school creative writing clubs for ages 7-11 in Stroud, beginning this Autumn term, with the goal of helping kids grow their confidence with the written word, and explore their imaginations in a playful, inclusive, screen-free environment. I am a professional writer with 3+ years' workshop facilitation experience, and I have an advanced DBS certificate.

I'd love to reach as many families as possible in Stroud, and wondered if you would be able to help me spread the word about this term's upcoming sessions?

Jotters creative writing clubs will be on Tuesdays 4-5pm at St Laurence, Stroud (in the Shambles), and Thursdays 4-5pm at Stroud Trinity Rooms. The price is £10 per club, and siblings can attend half-price. The clubs start week commencing 14th September and run until the end of Autumn term in December, with a break for half term week.

Please let me know if this sounds of interest and if you're able to share it with the parents at your school!

Parents can find out more, and book online, at

Best wishes,
Alice
